

All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood.

Today we're presenting Easy Japanese from Sendai. Today we'll be talking to the people in town to ask what they think of Japan. Hello. Well, today we're asking about Japan, and what people think is the best part about the country. Hmm, about Japan's best parts, because we live so close to the ocean, you can always get the freshest fish very easily. That, I think, is the best part about Japan.
